ABOUT THE BOOK

Beyond All Reason: Book I of The 'Beyond' Trilogy

The intriguing story of Kathryn Cameron MacLean: sister of a southern rebel militia leader, and Colonel Jason William Tarrington: a malicious British Green Dragoon officer recently arrived from England under King George's direct orders to suppress the rebellious nature of his Southern Colonies and bring them to heel.

Set in the Carolinas during the early months of the Revolutionary War, this epic tale chronicles the adventures of two dynamic personalities thrown together by an odd twist of fate, irrevocably sealing their destinies. Beyond All Reason is a moving account of conflicting passions and betrayed loyalties which drive a devoted brother and sister to opposite sides in an ugly war.

Enjoy a richly woven tapestry of both real and fictitious characters as Kathryn and Jason's obsessive cause drives them relentlessly to succeed in a bloody war they will ultimately lose – but can they survive? For theirs is a love beyond all reason. With its rich narrative, Beyond All Reason is a must-read for history and adventure fans – or those merely wishing to immerse themselves in an unforgettable story of enduring passion.

Beyond All Odds: Book II of The 'Beyond' Trilogy

As the acrid smoke slowly clears in the aftermath of the battle at Guilford Courthouse, North Carolina, Lieutenant Jackson, a British dragoon officer, finds himself miraculously still amongst the living. Scanning the crumpled bodies scattered across the oozing, red mud, he discovers a personal loss of staggering magnitude. But grieving must wait — for he has a sacred promise to fulfill: rescue an innocent child, considered to be a “valuable prize” by either side, from becoming a pawn in this ugly war.

Beyond The Horizon: Book III of The 'Beyond' Trilogy

With Lord Cornwallis' surrender, the Revolutionary War is finally declared over. However, to the proud citizens of Charleston, struggling to forget past humiliation suffered under his Lordship, ongoing British presence stands as a bitter reminder. Neither have they forgiven or forgotten Colonel Tarrington and his wife.

The Tarringtons, just returned from England, are embroiled in a dangerous rescue mission of their own. Upon achieving success, they wish to be forgotten, fade into the background and begin life over. Danger lurks on all sides from friends, former dragoons—even family. Who to trust – where to go? Perhaps their answer lies in the wilderness beyond the horizon. A powerfully written, multi-faceted, emotional blockbuster...with an ending you will never forget.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Joan Winfield Currie grew up on a small working dairy farm on the South Shore of Massachusetts. A graduate of Mass College of Art in Boston, she is a graphic designer and fantasy artist who has worked many years in retail hardware. Daughter of a taxidermist who loved to hunt, she grew up camping, fishing, skiving hides and shooting skeet in the backfields — a rather unique upbringing which proved helpful in developing her novels.
